

I am the owner of a little mom and pop restaurant called Kenwood Lane Grille. It's right off of route 41, behind the Office Depot and Olive Garden. I was hoping to find an artist(s) that might be interested in displaying his/her work in the restaurant. There is room for 10 - 12 pieces depending on the size of the work. Something colorful, contemporary, impressionistic, nothing depressive, something that might be interesting to look at while one is eating.

The artist could put price tags on each art piece in case a customer would like to purchase it all we would require is for the seller to cover the cost of the sales tax and cost of our charge card machine in case a customer would like to charge the purchase. We would also require the artist to sign a paper stating that we would not be responsible in case there was some type of damage to a piece. Artwork must be wired and ready to hang. Artist will be responsible for making labels for the artwork. Please e-mail me at jbeanner@msn.com if interested.
