All the supplies an artist can imagine.

Mother-daughter artists Rachelle and Teri Meagher work independently and collaboratively to create their unique multi-layered paintings. Featuring deep surfaces, vivid acrylic colors, rich iron rust and metallic patinas, each painting reflects the artists' individual strengths and experiences. Rachelle and Teri's studio/gallery, Mayhar Art, is located in Minneapolis's Arts District, and their paintings can be found in public and private collections in the U.S. and abroad.

These workshops are taught by Minneapolis professional mother/daughter artists Rachelle and Teri Meagher , of Mayhar Art. They are creative professionals with years of professional art and design experience. They have done commission work for a VIP suite at Harrahs Hotel/Casino, featured as Dick Blick Artists in national Art magazines; filmed for segments on local television; invitations and “Best in Show” awards from several national fine juried art fairs, and have sold work to corporate and private collectors all across the US and abroad. Teri and Rachelle own and operate their art gallery and painting studio in Northeast Minneapolis.

Bring to class: a variety of sizes of synthetic paint brushes think big... 3 canvas or canvas boards, any sizes under 18x24, a water container, rags, images that inspire you, and a bag lunch.
